Hodgson Family

portrait collection

We sometimes can get a real sense of a family's history as we choose camera angles and decide what should appear in the finished portraits. Including the kid's tire swing as a design element adds artistic and emotional value to the Hodgson family portrait.

Abrook Family

portrait collection

The Abrooks really understand the value of having a great portrait created every three or four years. The Abrook family were photographed last August during our Northern Lakes Tour of Christopher, Emma, Anglin and Waskesiu Lakes. The day was hot, the kids were enthusiastic and Grandpa arrived just in time to get the kids laughing!
